Where your treasure is, there will your heart be also. St. Matthew 6:21

We should probably have put this saying the other way round, and said that where a man's heart is, there will his treasure be. But the heart is easy to deceive. We may persuade ourselves that our heart is devoted to somebody or something, and then, when certain things are touched, it will be proved that they are the real treasure and our heart is there. If people give up their religion because some one forgets them or slights them, it is shown that their real treasure is in being thought of and considered, and not in Jesus only.

We have before us the example of One Whose treasure was proved to be in His Father's will. Every earthly treasure was taken from Him, and it was manifest that He counted as His supreme treasure His union with the Father's will. Thus it was proved that that was where His heart was always. This thought is a great help, for it teaches us that the place where our heart is isn't shown by feelings of comfort but by that which we would wish to be our treasure, and which we strive, with whatever difficulty, to keep inviolate.

If Jesus is our real treasure, nothing can touch our treasure, and all the sorrow and suffering of life will only prove more truly where our real treasure is, and the great world of reality, which we call heaven, will reveal to us that, whatever life may have robbed us of it never touched the true riches.

A Note From Father Schultz

A few weeks ago there was a cartoon (Dan Piraro, "Bizarro," Chicago Sun-Times, August 16, 2010) in the newspaper that showed a couple looking at a text message on a cell phone. The message was "Woke up omnipotent again this morning. Awesome." Then at the bottom of the cartoon it said "If God Started Tweeting." God is omnipotent and omniscient. But while God is omniscient, your Rector isn't. So if you, or someone you know in the Parish, is sick, injured or is scheduled to have a hospital visit, please call so I can add your name, or their name, to the Parish Prayer List and make arrangements for a visit. Also, remember the Sacrament of Anointing is available for those who are sick, injured or are planning to have a hospital stay. This sacrament can be administered in the Church, at home, or in the hospital. Finally, for those who are unable to attend Church on a regular basis, Holy Communion can be brought to them. Call the Church cell phone number: 630-710-7375.

SENIOR WARDEN'S REPORT

The Vestry met on July 18 and August 15 with the following items discussed:

Our budget remains in good condition thanks to prompt pledge payments and responsible spending by the Vestry. Thanks everyone.

Our property inventory is a work in progress by Deacon Wilson and Paul Drayton. They are making a list with estimated replacement costs, and Paul is recording a pictorial DVD that will be extremely helpful in case of loss.

The coat closet in the Narthex is almost complete. Yet to be installed is a folding rod to accommodate more coats.

We discussed adding an umbrella insurance policy to cover accidents that might occur on the premises. This was tabled pending receipt of more information on cost and coverage. Carol O'Sullivan has requested this information and discussion will continue at our September meeting.

Archbishop Provence is scheduled to visit our parish November 19 to 22. A reception planned by the ACW will follow the Solemn High Mass on Sunday, November 21.

Our steeple was inspected to assure its stability. A representative from the installing company gave it a thorough inspection and pronounced it to be in excellent condition. Good news!

Pledge Sunday is scheduled for Sunday, November 14. Carol O'Sullivan, Father, Schultz, Deacon Wilson and I will be preparing the 2011 Budget for Vestry approval.

Plans have begun for our Thanksgiving baskets project and Chris Oschman will be in charge of this important outreach activity. Please read her article in this issue for dates and details. This has been so successful in the past, and with the present economy it will be even more important this year. Thank you, Chris, for once again chairing this outreach project!

SUNDAY SCHOOL

Another exciting Sunday School year will begin Sunday, September 12. We are extremely fortunate to have wonderful teachers who willingly volunteer to teach our children.

Rebecca Ruff will in charge of the nursery with help from Alex, Claudia and Michaela Hillen.

Cheryl Nash will teach the children ages 3 to 5 with the help of Carol O'Sullivan. This age group meets in the Undercroft.

Jean Edgerton teaches children ages 6 to 8. This class meets in the conference room.

Paul Drayton will teach children ages 9 to 12. This class will meet in the kitchen.

Many, many thanks to these volunteers!

Chuck Bolton
Sunday School Administrator

Claudia, Sue and Bob at the grill.

Beverly, Mary and Catherine enjoy the picnic.

David, Lita, Carol and Jeb have their plates ready!

THANKSGIVING BASKETS

We will be collecting financial donations for the FISH Thanksgiving Baskets. Please place your checks in the offering plate any Sunday through November 14 (or give them to Carol O'Sullivan) with the notation "Thanksgiving Basket". We have heard from FISH that the need is great again this year so we'll be hoping to do as much as possible in our contribution to this worthwhile cause. We are one of the largest contributors to this endeavor in Bolingbrook, and it is all due to your generosity.

If you would like to help shop for the groceries, please let me know because many hands make light work. Having teams of shoppers will speed things up in the purchase and drop off on the same day.

Thank you for your continued support of this worthy outreach project.

Thanksgiving Basket Chair

ALL SAINTS CHURCH LIBRARY

Our own Fabi Brush is the highlighted author this month. Her book, Nothing New Under the Sun (call number 248 BRU 2003), is on display in the library. If you haven't read the book, take it home with you this Sunday, or if it is already off the shelf, add it to your reading list. The subtitle of the book is "A Journey from Atheism to Faith." The back cover describes it as: "...a simple, logical, step by step progression through the thought process leading from atheism to faith, from despair to hope, and from a meaningless existence to joy beyond your wildest dreams!"

The book links the case for God and Christianity together very nicely and provides a high level overview. While I have recommended Mere Christianity to those I wanted to share my beliefs with, from now on this is the book I will recommend first. Check it out. Let me know if you agree.

HYMN SUGGESTIONS?

If you have a favorite hymn you would like to hear more often on Sunday, please send your suggestions (limit 3 please) to George Tarasuk at gwtarasuk@gmail.com or fill out a Hymn Request Form. These forms can be found in the Narthex. The person who suggests a hymn will be noted in the Sunday bulletin. Please limit your choices to hymns found in the 1940 Hymnal.

ANGLICAN CHURCH WOMEN

The next regular meeting of the ACW will be on Sunday, September 12.

On Friday, October 22, at 6:00 PM the ACW will host a potluck dinner after which Sue Ross will direct us in making Anglican Rosaries. Please bring a dish to share. The cost of materials for the rosaries will be determined and indicated on the signup sheet in the Narthex. All women of the Parish are welcome to join us for dinner, rosary making - or both!

ACW President

ANGLICAN CHURCH MEN

Though we tried hard, the golf outing was just not to be - too many other organizations squeezing group outings into the last several weekends before the weather turns. We will plan a golf outing as soon as the weather breaks in the spring.

Don't forget that on October 16 your ACM is sponsoring a dinner/theater outing to Drury Lane to see Seven Brides for Seven Brothers. A sign up sheet will be posted in the Narthex.

We appreciate all those who supported and attended the Parish Family Picnic and made it such a success. The food was great (thanks to Bob Oschman), and we had more children attend than ever before.

Small changes are still being planned to improve the functionality of the building - if you have any suggestions, please contact Bob, Donnie, Paul or Dan.

The next ACM meeting will be on Sunday, September 12. Please plan on attending.

Dan Brush
ACM President
